Friday 17th September

These Fridays are coming round very quickly! We have had another good week in school. The children seem to be settled back in well, and the buzz around school is wonderful to see. The children and staff are working so hard! Please read through this letter carefully and fill in the appropriate forms. Thank you!

St. Patrick's Church - Please see message below

Why not come along to our Heritage Open Day next Saturday, September 18th? This is part of a national celebration, organised every year by English Heritage. You don't have to be a parishioner, or even from Liverpool. Everybody will be welcome at St. Patrick's between 12.30 and 3.30 pm. In addition to seeing parts of the church not normally open to visitors, you will be able to see (and hear) the restored bell, the historic organ and other restoration work, learn about our future plans, meet old friends and discover more about St. Patrick's history from Michael O'Neill who has just completed a new book about the church. We are hoping that you will bring old photographs for others to see; and, if you wish to wear Victorian dress, that will be great! At 3.30, for those who wish, Michael will be walking down to St. Vincent's to give a talk there from 4.00 to 5.00 pm.
